

Singers in Costume to Give Open Air Concert At the London Ranch

One of the most notable affairs ever planned in the Valley of the Moon will be the June song recital in national costume for the Jack London memorial library. It is to be produced both at the London ranch, Glen Ellen and at Santa Rosa in the High School auditorium. The open air production on the ranch will be on Sunday, June 3rd and it is predicted that the beautiful home of the late author will be the mecca for hundreds of visitors on that day.

The affairs are under the auspices of the Glen Ellen Womens Improvement Club who started the memorial fund and are hopeful that this benefit will be the means of building the reading room and library on the site. It recently donated by Mrs. Geo. O'Donnell as a memorial to Mr. London.

The concert under the direction of Mrs. Richard Rees of San Francisco will be a treat to music lovers and as given by the vocal club of eighteen in the metropolis recently, it won the plaudits of critics and audience who were charmed by the rare voices and splendid interpretations. "A round the World in Song" will include the songs of all nations sung in national costumes and the finale is a brilliant American tribute with Columbia enacted by Mrs. Rees herself.

The all fresco affair at the London ranch is attracting the attention of the women's clubs of the entire state and literary art and musical circles around the Bay. Excursions on the railroads and auto parties are expected and transportation to the ranch from Glen Ellen has been arranged for those coming in on the trains.

A basket picnic will be enjoyed by the visitors and the hospitable clubwomen of Glen Ellen will sell coffee, ice cream etc. to aid the worthy cause.

The evening production at Santa Rosa promises to be a brilliant affair. Tickets now on sale entitle purchasers to a handsome satin badge bearing the portrait of Jack London.

EASTERN STAR WERE HOSTESSES

Visiting Members From Santa Rosa and Napa Chapters at Initiation and Banquet of Sonoma Lodge.

Valley of the Moon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held one of the most brilliant affairs in its history Thursday night. In appointments of every character and in the conduct of the lodge work, this affair was a notable one and reflected the greatest honor on the officers and members of the Lodge. That this compliment is richly deserved was attested by the speeches and compliments both official and confidential from the visiting officers and members of neighboring Chapters who showed by every word and action how impressed they were with the evening's entertainment.

At Masonic Hall where the four new candidates, Mr. and Mrs. Blum and Mr. and Mrs. Hopperoff were initiated with the impressive ceremonial of the Order, the august occasion was emphasized by the military character of the decorations where Old Glory in all its beauty mingled with garlands of green about the pillars and over the various stations.

District Deputy Grand Matron, Laura C. Grady of the 9th district was in attendance as were also Worthy Maude Mathews of Rose Valley Chapter, Worthy Matron Mary Craig of Silver Spray Chapter, Matron Claire Petue of Lei Aloha Chapter, Honolulu, Worthy Patron, H. W. Beardon of Rose Valley Chapter, Worthy Patron Gordon of Silver Spray Chapter and others.

The work of initiation was beautifully conducted by Worthy Matron Luella Gale of Valley of the Moon Chapter and her efficient assistants.

After the ceremonies the lodge members and their guests repaired to the Womens Clubhouse which had been transformed into a veritable bower of roses for the visitors. Here the banquet was held which for appointments outlived anything ever before attempted. Pink and green were the colors used and from the dainty Cecil Breuner roses at each plate to the last course of the delicious menu, everything was splendid.

Great baskets of roses and dainty five fingered fern decorated the entrance hall and from every nook and corner vari-colored roses delighted the eye and wafted their sweet perfume.

Here gathered the distinguished company and they enjoyed the lavish banquet and were treated to a program of excellence consisting of numbers by M. H. Rowell, Miss Mink, High School Girls Glee Club, Miss Ames, Celeste G. Murphy and others.

Fine talks were given by the visiting officers and by Messrs. C. E. Lee, M. V. Vaughan, Nathan Coombs, F. O. Reeder and others. Worthy Patron, R. E. Murphy was toastmaster.

The committees having the banquet in charge consisted of Mrs. Geo. Breitenbach, chairman, Mrs. Chas. Cutter, Mrs. Ed. Johansson, Mrs. E. Murphy, Mrs. Ed. Lindley, Mrs. Cone, Mrs. Ben Bordson and others.

Mrs. Gale, Mrs. Stofen, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bennett, Mrs. T. D. Hall, Mrs. Jessen, Mrs. Burmeister and assistants were on the reception and decoration committees.

WATER COMPANY TO INSTALL METER SYSTEM

The Sonoma City Water Works Company has decided to install a meter system and beginning with the 15th of this month the work of placing the meters will begin. For many years the company has charged a flat rate but after a conference with the Railroad Commission and acting on the suggestion of the State Council Defense which aims to have an equitable amount of water distributed among consumers for irrigation and domestic purposes, it was deemed advisable to install the meters. Much water has gone to waste in the past through careless use and the result has been that some consumers have gotten but little water while others have been getting more than their share.

The meter system will put all consumers on the same basis, that is they will have the privilege of using all the water they want at the rate of 15c per thousand gallons.

Pumping of the water is an important item of expense, but with the meter system as a protection—and waste eliminated, the company assures its patrons that the service will be improved and made more efficient.

The south side of Napa street will be the first to be metered.

George Brehm and Jack Peterson talented musicians of the metropolis, visited Mr. and Mrs. Tony Peterson last Sunday.

Prominent Speakers Today at the County Council Held Here

Today is a red letter day in women's club circles of Sonoma County and as the County Council of which Mrs. Carrie Burlingame is president is in session at our own Clubhouse, it is all the more interesting from a local point of view. Last year the weather interfered and we were disappointed not to have heard Warden Johnson. The 1917 session will be fully as interesting for on the program today are John Plover and O. E. Bremner, two of the leading men of Sonoma County, both with messages both timely and interesting.

Mr. Plover, famous for his philanthropy and a social worker of great success will speak on Red Cross work in which he has been so active of late at Santa Rosa.

Mr. Bremner, county horticulturist, will review the economic side of the war situation and tell what can be done to aid the farming activities and thus work out President Wilson's appeal to the food purveyors of our country. Woman's part in this great work will be set forth by the speaker.

The morning session will be given over to the always interesting reports of the various clubs which review their work and programs for the past year thus giving inspiring thoughts and new ideas to their neighbors.

Musical numbers will be rendered—a trio by Mesdames Hotz, McElney and Miss Weber and a vocal solo by Miss Mink.

A basket picnic supplemented with coffee and other refreshments will be enjoyed by the visitors. All men and women are invited.

ROOSEVELT WRITES TO MRS. LONDON

Ex-President Compliments Her on Book and on Effective Denial of Old Lie.

Mrs. Jack London who sent Theodore Roosevelt a copy of a telegram written by the late author, at one time endorsing Roosevelt for president of the United States and enclosing also Mr. London's denial of the anti-military canard with which London was credited has received the following letter from Teddy:

"Office of Theodore Roosevelt.
Metropolitan New York, Apr. 25 '17
My dear Mrs. London:-

I am profoundly touched and pleased by your letter, and the inclosure. I had not seen it. Another thing pleases me: and that is the nailing of the lie about the advice of your husband to young men. Really, it is infamous that such things should be permitted to be circulated without severe punishment. My dear Mrs. London, let me thank you most warmly. I wish I could thank you in person.

I have just been reading with the greatest enjoyment your South Seas experience, in your book THE LOG OF THE SNARK.

Faithfully yours,
(S) Theodore Roosevelt."

The old lie that Jack London deprecated the military life and advised young men against it was denied in a vehement written statement made in 1916 by Mr. London himself to Navy headquarters. Any one who knew the author and his red blooded philosophy of life, took no credence in the canard but it was widely used by socialists and peace advocates. Mrs. London continues to give the story the lie and is much admired for it as Mr. Roosevelt's letter and others attest.

An eastern daily once wired London for his choice of a president for the U. S. A. and he wired "Roosevelt." This is the telegram Mrs. London sent to the Metropolitan.

"The Log of the Snark" by Charmion London is a delightful book of travel and has won the highest commendation of all critics. Mr. Roosevelt's personal compliment has more than pleased the clever little woman whose books bid fare to rival those of London himself.

Joe Ryan, Jas. Sterling and Dan McGovern go to Dixon today where they will race Jim Chase and Glen-Mac. Jim Chase will race an auto 1-8 of a mile.

Bridge to be Dedicated by Governor Stephens During Big Celebration

The Sonoma Cut-off celebration is growing hourly in importance and with the official recognition given it by the acceptance of Governor Stephens to dedicate the new $90,000 bridge at Black Point June 16th and the announcement that he is to be the guest of the Sonoma Valley Womens Club at a banquet following the ceremonies, the committees are jubilant.

While in the Sacramento Valley last Saturday Frank Sprague communicated the desire of Sonoma to entertain the Governor to the Governor's secretary, Mr. Madsen, and was advised to have the invitation extended through Sonoma County's representatives in the Legislature. Senator Slater was interviewed and was most enthusiastic over the plan to have Governor Stephens visit us during the big demonstration over our new Highway connection. He straightway visited the governor's office and a few hours after the Sonoma delegation returned home the following wire was received: "Governor Stephens accepts invitation for bridge dedication, June 16. H. W. Slater.

The Governor meeting with the leading citizens of the three counties on the day of the dedication will no doubt be given a tremendous ovation and it is planned to take him over the valley after the ceremonies and to tender him and his party a fine banquet at the Womens Clubhouse. Other guests will include the Highway Commissioners, both of the present Board and the previous one and the civil engineers connected with the Sonoma Cut-off work.

The governor and aid-de camp may also be in the official party and they will all be invited to enjoy the races and rodeo following the dinner.

Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco will be royally welcomed on the first day when he opens the celebration ceremonies and his wife has been officially invited to participate also. They will be met at the Highway intersection near Schellville and escorted into town where the parade will await them and the line of march be formed.

The California Telephone & Light Company has generously donated free illuminations during the three nights of joy.

Union Hall has been engaged for the celebration and a brass band will discourse music there for dance lovers while a small charge of a "jitney" or so will be asked to aid the celebration fund.

An official parking place for automobiles has been secured and checks

PUBLIC HEALTH JOB FOR A SONOMA BOY

Ralph Buchan who is in the pharmacy department of the U. S. navy at the U. S. Marine Barracks, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, has written home that he is growing very fond of the country there and that the prospects are that he will some day locate in the islands permanently. Inspector General Fisher of the Public Health Service of Hawaii has taken quite an interest in the bright young American and his sound ideas on the sanitary betterment of Honolulu has gained him the admiration and recognition of the official.

An offer of a $125 government job in the Public Health Service has been made Ralph just as soon as he wishes to leave the navy. So after the expiration of his enlistment, he may decide to accept. From the hospital Corps he has rapidly advanced in the naval base hospital where he is studying pharmacy at the present time.

He tells of meeting Rogers, a friend of J. McElneys who is employed at a drug store down there and also of seeing Swinton Aldrich and Bill Rosa who formerly went to school here at Locust Grove.

Ralph's many friends in Sonoma glad to hear of his fine prospects but are not surprised as he is "some boy."

Our Representative at Washington

It is an honor for Sonoma County to have Clarence F. Lea in Congress at this time when history is so rich in the making. It is with satisfaction that Sonoma County has the distinction of being so closely associated with affairs of state and the first Congressional district so ably represented. Every important matter which has had the attention of Mr. Lea thus far has been given the careful thought and calm consideration for which he is renowned and as a result his vote and utterances on matters of crucial importance have shown him to be a thorough American and a man of distinct character. There has been nothing hysterical in his utterances, nothing spectacular in his attitude, nothing freakish in his any action. Without obtruding himself in the remotest way he has already attracted the attention of astute politicians and men of affairs at the national capital.

The effect of present day events on a man of Mr. Lea's type cannot but produce an individual of growing value both as a constructive statesman and counselor. Simple and unostentatious, what manner of man could better represent the West in this supreme stand America is taking for world wide democracy. Honest, efficient and unworried by the rancidity of the ward type of politics, what better representative could California and the First District have than Congressman Clarence F. Lea? He has timely come upon the national horizon made glorious by the illustrious emissaries from across the ocean, in an epoch of history when men not politics must play the parts in the present world drama.

Assistant District Attorney Wallace Ware has received the following interesting letter from Congressman C. F. Lea speaking of President Wilson's great message to Congress:

"It has been a privilege to be here while these great events were taking place. I had no doubt about the way I should vote. I thought my duty was very plain.

"It was a great occasion when the President delivered his message to Congress. The floors of the House and the galleries were packed; members of the Supreme Court were ushered in and given special seats immediately in front of the Speaker's desk; the House assembled early; just before the President arrived the members of the United States Senate filed in and took their seats immediately behind the members of the Supreme Court; the gallery of the foreign diplomats was filled; the President entered in a modest way, shook hands with the Speaker and immediately began his address, speaking in a deliberate, unostentatious, but impressive manner. He was given a great ovation when he appeared and the ovation was renewed at different points in his address, but he remained perfectly calm and neither by voice nor manner indicated that he was influenced by the demonstration. After he began his address there was an intense silence, which continued until after reciting the transgressions of Germany, he declared in substance that there was one course America could not pursue and that was submission. At that declaration a large part of those assembled sprang to their feet and there was a great outburst of approval. It appeared as if that declaration by the President relieved all doubt about his recommending any course of hesitation or half-way measures and that he was there to voice and courage and defiance of America. The auditors seemed to accept it with that understanding and voiced their tremendous approval.

"I have often admired Wilson, but never more so than that night when with quiet, courageous determination, in clean-cut, incisive language, he defined and presented America's cause to our country and the world. As he proceeded with his discourse it seemed plain to me that there was the master mind and hand which we were fortunate to have to direct the affairs of America in these great world events, so that our part should be done in a way as to reflect credit upon ourselves and furnish an example worthy of respect of the America of the future.

"I have been most agreeably received by the members of Congress and shown many kindnesses. I was treated splendidly in committee assignments. I asked for only one and that was an assignment to the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. I was also given a place on the Committee on Accounts, the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Labor and the Committee on Election of President and Vice President of the House of Representatives. I find plenty to do; in fact the greatest difficulty is that I haven't time to do as much as I would like to.

"There is quite a disposition here to confine the work of this session to legislation of an emergency character and if this course be followed it is not improbable that Congress will adjourn by the first of June.

Sincerely yours,

Clarence F. Lea.

Mr. Lea voted in favor of the conscription bill as proposed by President Wilson and his first speech was in behalf of the "uniform plan under which no man goes to war in shame and no man stays at home in dishonor." He dubbed the alternative measure of calling for volunteers first and if that failed, then resorting to enforced service as odious.

Congressman Lea's activity in behalf of the wine makers of California for whom he seeks justice in the matter of equitable tax shows that home issues are not being overlooked by our vigilant representative.

The following twisted version of facts appeared in a recent Santa Rosa paper:

"The charge that a prohibitory law cannot be enforced is a sloppy mixture (about four quarters, the bluff of the criminal liquor trade and the rest the feeble-mindedness of flabby people and the dishonesty of quack statesmen." As a matter of fact the charge that prohibition can be enforced is sloppy thinking with a preponderance of facts dead against it.

ENLISTS IN NAVY

Irving Shepard, son of Mrs. Eliza Shepard of the London ranch has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is now at Goat Island preparing for the service.

Young Shepard was a former Sonoma High School student and was active in the agricultural work. He is a clever judge of stock and took a prize at the last State Fair at Sacramento. His chum, Pete Yenni Jr., recently went to Mare Island where he is employed in electric work. The two boys often planned on going to sea together.

CALLED TO THE COLORS

OF ITALY

Thomas Vella, the eighteen year old brother of Joseph Vella proprietor of the Mission Creamery, has written from Italy telling of his call to the colors. He has been assigned to the Bersagliere Corps which is quite an honor and gets other recognition because of his superior education and technical training in telegraphy and wireless. The patriotic young son of Italy is at present in the training camp at Milan. Joseph Vella has not seen his brother in recent years. The young soldier was a little boy nine years of age when last they met. His father is also in the service of the Italian government, being a railroad official.

RED CROSS WORKERS ORGANIZE

Elect Officers and Now Await Charter From Washington D. C.

Sonoma's Red Cross work is well in hand and already there are thirty four signers on the roll and a charter for independent organization has been applied for at Washington D. C. At the second meeting held last Saturday night the following officers were elected: Robert A. Poppe, Chairman; F. T. Durning, vice; Alice Wagon, secretary; Dr. W. B. Hays, treasurer.

Two substantial checks were received to further the good work by Sonoma's Red Cross workers. The donors were Robt. Poppe and Jesse Burris who contributed $50 each. They will probably be recipients of life memberships in the society.

The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the Chairman.

A lecture on Switzerland, with the celebrated colored slides will be given by C. S. Price at the Congregational Church Wednesday evening, May 9th. Refreshments and a silver offering will follow.

A new floor is being laid in the Boyes Springs theatre which will be transformed into one of the most attractive dance pavilions in the valley.

BRYAN TO SPEAK IN

SANTA ROSA

William Jennings Bryan, "The Great Commoner" will speak to the people of Sonoma County at the Cline Theatre in Santa Rosa, Thursday afternoon, May 10th at 2:30 o'clock, coming under the management of the Redpath Homer Chautauqua. This is the only time Mr. Bryan will be heard in this part of the State this season and it is more than likely that standing room will be at a premium on this occasion.

Not only the conspicuous part Mr. Bryan has played in the affairs of the Nation for a score of years always makes his utterances of great interest and import but he comes with a message this time which lies close to the hearts of every patriot—the necessity for the conservation of all the Nation's resources. He has been gathering data of a most startling nature and in his inimitable way is presenting it for the profound consideration of the American people. Not to hear Mr. Bryan on May 10th will be to miss an epochal address.

That the greatest possible number may have the privilege of listening to what Mr. Bryan has to offer, the tickets have been placed on sale at fifty cents. Mr. Bryan is devoting his net profits on this lecture tour to the National Red Cross Fund.

While Mr. Bryan's Santa Rosa date has no connection with the Rose Carnival being held in that city May 10th to 12th those desiring to attend from this section will have the advantage of the special railroad rates which will be in force then. To insure getting a seat, reservations should be made early and can be had by applying at the box office of the Cline Theatre, Santa Rosa.

OLD RESIDENT

LAI D TO REST

Samuel Box, an uncle of Mrs. Sam Lewis of this place, and one of the pioneer residents of the upper Sonoma Valley, died in Lane hospital and was laid to rest here in Valley Cemetery Monday.

Box came to Sonoma County when fourteen years of age and spent more than forty years on his ranch above Glen Ellen where he resided with his wife and five children and made many life-long friends who learned of his death following an operation with much regret. Of late years he had made his home in Trinity county.

Deceased was 78 years of age and the eldest brother of Mrs. Sam Lewis' mother.

Interment was in the family plot in valley cemetery where rest so many of our old pioneers and their loved ones.
